

UNITED STATES IN ENTIRE CONTROL

Captain McLean and His Marines Keep Order
at the Isthmus.

TRAINS RUNNING

He Cables the Navy Department That All Will Be Kept Peaceful.

PRESENT SITUATION

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Commander McLean of the cruiser Clin-cinnati this morning informed the navy department by cable that he was now in complete control of the transportation facilities of the isthmus of Panama and that communication by means of the railway between the two oceans was open and would be kept so.

Has Marines On Guard
Commander McLean has a force of blue jackets on guard over the road bed and the trains and the insurgents and the government troops are warned to let them strictly alone. The marines will be kept on service as long as it is necessary.

Recognize Authority
From the tone of the dispatch it would seem that the Colombian government recognizes the authority of the United States in controlling traffic over the isthmus. Preparations are being made by both of the leaders for a fierce battle in the near future.

LOCAL FIRM HAS
THE STREET WORK

Brown & Connors Are the Lowest Bidders on the Street Paving Work.

Brown & Connors of this city were the successful bidders for about fifteen thousand dollars worth of street work, to be done by the city this fall.
The street assessment committee met Saturday afternoon at the city clerk's office and opened the bids for the improvement of Wall, Marion, North High, North Franklin and Harrison streets. Bids for the work were received from five persons or firms,
they being Cape, Sons, Blake Bros.,
P. W. Ryan, Brown & Connors and F.
M. Savage.

Brown & Connors were below almost all of the other bidders in every part of the work, excavating, macadamizing and curbing. P. W. Ryan of this city was their nearest competitor his bid for the entire work being only $226.26 larger than theirs.

Much Work
The work on the five streets calls for 5,053 cubic yards of excavation, 17,061 square yards of macadam, 8, 191 feet of curbing and gutter, 203 lineal feet of brick gutters. Brown & Connors' bid for the entire work amounted to $15,222.17, divided as follows: Wall street, $5,965.88; Marion, $975.58; North High, $2,834.17; North Franklin, $4,382.65; Harrison, $1,064.
89.

Will Make Report
The street assessment committee will report to the city council at its next meeting Tuesday evening and their recommendation that the work be given to Brown &
Connors will no doubt be adopted.

Two Fatally Shot.
East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 22.—In a duel between Special Officers Benjamin Nolan and John Kratzmeyer of the Illinois Central railroad and two negro roustabouts, Nolan was fatally shot by Gustav Dubois, a roustabout, and Dubois also received fatal wounds.

Machias On Way Home.
Washington, Sept. 22.—The navy department has received a dispatch that the gunboat Machias, which has been stationed at Cape Hatteras for some time, has been relieved by the Clin-cinnati and is now en route to Boston.

A Peculiar Election Law.
The peculiar primary election law of South Carolina compels a candidate for state office or for United States senator to make at least one speech in every county of the state before the date of the primary election. As a result the pursuit of office in the Palmetto state has, as the Atlanta Constitution says, developed into a profession, requiring a strenuousness and endurance that qualify the candidates for membership on a 'varsity eight or champion football team.

Tom Watson Claims Honor.
Tom Watson, ex-congressman, offers $1,000 for proof that he was not the father of free rural mail delivery, in virtue of the fact, he asserts, that he introduced into Congress and got passed the first resolution appropriating money for that purpose May 28, 1892.

Sight of the Ostrich.
An ostrich can see all around him without moving his head. A person standing behind an ostrich can see the pupils of the fowl's eyes, and, of course, be seen by the fowl.

FILIPINO GAMESTER
IN LAW'S TOILS

Loses Money, Gives Checks and Then Refuses to Pay the Indebtedness.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—
(Special.)—Ramon Gomez Ricoy's gambling debts may be aired in the supreme court of the United States.
Ramon Gomez Ricoy is a Filipino, and in the archipelago his fame is known from Luzon to Mindanao. Where play ran high three years ago Ramon was always to be found. One night he played monte with Lucio Angeles.
Fortune smiled on Lucio so blantly that Ramon was obliged to sign
"chits" for 33,000 pesos. When Lu-cio Angeles demanded the redemption of the "chits" Senor Ricoy refused to pay. Straightway he was arrested on a warrant charging him with embezzlement.

Prosecuted Ricoy
All Manila was interested in the trial, according to the stories in the Manila newspapers which arrived in the War Department mail today. The court before which Ricoy was held dismissed him, declaring that no one could compel Ricoy to pay his gambling debts. Twice more was he arrested on amended complaints, and each time he was dismissed, but the persistent prosecutor appealed the case and the high-playing Filipino was once again arrested. He is free under a 50,000-pesos bond. The doggedness of the plaintiff alarmed senior Ricoy, and his lawyer drew a brief tending to show that his appeal to the supreme court of the United States should be granted in case the supreme court of the Philippines gave an opinion adverse to Ricoy.

SENATOR SPOONER
IS IN MADISON

He Refuses To Talk on National or State
Affairs at All.

MAKES SPEECHES

Says He Has Not Needed
Invitations to Speak in Wisconsin Before

BEVERIDGE IS COMING

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—United States Senator John C. Spooner, who arrived home from New York on Saturday night, refuses absolutely to discuss politics either state or national.
The senator says that he will make several speeches during the campaign but that he does not know where or when he will speak.

No Invitation Yet
Thus far the Senator has not received any invitation from the State Central Committee to speak in Wisconsin.
It has been learned that the invitation was sent to the Senator's New York address and that it will doubtless follow him here.

Not Necessary
Senator Spooner said: "I have not been accustomed to needing invitations to speak in Wisconsin during campaigns in the past nor do I now."
It is understood that Senator Beveridge of Indiana is to make several speeches in Wisconsin during the fall.

GOTHAM'S 400 TO GO TO CAPITAL

Social Life at Washington Will Be Dominated by New York Society.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—
(Special.)—Social life at the capital during the coming season will not be dominated by the cabinet women. The activity of real estate agents and the struggle for desirable houses for metropolitan millionaires is noticeable already. The Astors and Vanderbilts, the Cuttings and many more New York families that have hitherto shunned the capital will be well represented. The cabinet women will of course continue at the head of the line at the White House and will be the official hostesses of various perfunctory entertainments.

BOYS HAVE EXCITING
RIDE IN BIG BALLOON

Lads Cut Guy Ropes of Captive Air Ship, Are Carried Away and Land in Safety.

Toledo, O., Sept. 22.—Paul and Roy Knabenshuf ran away with a big balloon, and, after a wild ride through the clouds, they landed in safety.

The youngsters went for a walk and visited the fair grounds, where a big captive balloon is one of the attractions.

The boys discussed the matter briefly, then cut the guy ropes and jumped into the basket. Employees ran toward the scene to stop them, but the balloon already was beyond reach. It shot upward rapidly for four miles into an atmosphere that nearly froze the boys, who were lightly dressed.

The boys released the gas, the balloon dropped rapidly toward the earth, and landed easily, leaving the boys uninjured.

They had traveled six miles in thirty-five minutes, not counting the four miles up and down. A farmer's wagon was hired, the balloon was rolled up and brought to the city.

The Only "Harp" There.
The waiters at a big restaurant in the Park Row building are all French or German, with one exception, and he is a son of the "ever faithful Isle."

"Patsy," said the man with the very high collar, cocking his ear, the better to hear the orchestra playing in the upstairs dining room, "is that a harp
they have upstairs?" "No, sir," said Patsy, "I guess I am the only 'harp' there is here."—New York Tribune.

Brain and Intellect.
The exact seat in the brain of the highest intellectual faculties has formed a moot point in science since the functions of the organ of mind began to be investigated with accuracy. The general opinion localizes what we term "mind" in the prefrontal lobes of the brain, but by another school of thinkers the hinder lobes have been credited with performing our highest cerebral duties.

One Use for Big Guns.
It is said that the artillery practice at Fort Mott is knocking the cat-pillars out of the fruit trees of Salem county, New Jersey, and stunning the peas. Once in awhile there big guns and soldiers are really of some use.

HOPPER YOUNG
IS ARRESTED

Alleged New York Mur-derer Under Arrest in Derby, Conn.

CLEARS MYSTERY

Trunk Found in Chicago Contained Bloody Clothes of the Dead Woman.

WORK FOR POLICE

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Derby, Conn., Sept. 22.—A man is being held by the police under the suspicion that he is Hopper Young, the alleged New York murderer. He was given a hearing this morning in the police court and claimed to hail from Portland, Ore. He is held over for further investigation although the police say that they believe his story.

No Clues Yet
While the New York police claim they have undoubtedly fixed the crime upon Hopper Young still they have no definite clue as to his present whereabouts. Captain Titus says that he is on Long Island and that he hopes to capture him.

The trunk that Young shipped from New York has been found by the Chicago police and contained women's wearing apparel. From the stains on the underwear it is thought the woman was partially undressed when she was killed by her murderer.

Man arrested here is identified as Hopper Young.

GRAND OPERA TO
COST MUCH MONEY

New York Elite Will Pay Six Thousand Dollars for This Season's Box Seats.

New York, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—
The "herschel" boxes at the Metropolitan opera house are to cost $6, 000 this season, which is an advance of $1,000 over the price demanded in former years. Persons are willing to pay almost any price for them, but unfortunately for those who aspire to sit among the stockholders, the question of price does not alone decide whether or no the applicants are to have the box they desire. A committee is in charge of the boxes, which cannot be rented to any person not satisfactory to this tribunal.

BARELY SAVES GIRLS
FROM BEING RUN OVER

Anxiety to See the President Causes
Little Girls to Risk Danger
Under Horses' Hoofs.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 22.—The element of tragedy which has obtruded itself so often in President Roosevelt's recent journeys was not lacking yesterday, the first of his sojourn here as the guest of the city of Detroit.
During his afternoon drive two little girls had a narrow escape from being trampled beneath the feet of the horses attached to the President's en-carriage.

As he saw the peril of the little ones
President Roosevelt rose to his feet in the carriage in the act of springing to their rescue, but Police Captain Guyman, who was driving, fortunately succeeded in checking the team. Then President Roosevelt asked that the route be changed to less crowded thoroughfares and this was done accordingly.

The streets through which it had been announced the President would drive were thronged all the afternoon and it was out of the crowd that the children dashed into the street in order to see the nation's chief. Capt.
Guyman had to throw the horses back on their haunches to avoid running down the impulsive youngsters.

IN THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Mrs. Houghart
Several Jamesville persons went to Elkhorn today to attend the funeral of Mrs. Houghart, the mother of Mrs.
G. L. Hatch of this city. Mrs. Houghart died at Elkhorn Saturday after an illness of several months' duration.
The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Annie Connolly
After many years of residence in this city, Miss Annie Connolly died
this morning at her home on South Jackson street. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church at ten o'clock Wednesday morning. Rev. Mc-Ginnity officiating. Besides the many intimate friends who will mourn her death Miss Connolly leaves two grief-stricken sisters, Ellen and Bridget.

the other for $55,000. The bid was not accepted.

FAMOUS PAINTER
DIES IN NEED

The Artist Who Designed "Look Out" and "Spring," Expires in Actual Need.

New York, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—
J. Charles Collins, the artist, who painted "Look Out," died yesterday at the Home Hotel, 148 St. Ann's avenue, of accidental gas poisoning.
"Look Out" is the picture in every art store and many homes, of a happy, laughing boy, with an armful of snowballs, and one in his right hand ready to pelt some one.

The artist's death discloses a sad life, and in which the painter who had received hundreds of dollars for his works was forced to descend to painting political banners. Collins was found dead in bed. The gas jet had an extra cock for a gas stove.
Collins had stopped the hole with a cork, but had hung a shirt on the end of the jet, and it is believed he turned on the other stop in turning out the burner.

Pathetic Life
The coroner looked over the effects of the artist and read his whole life in them. There were hundreds of newspaper and art periodical clippings about his pictures. "Look Out" and "Spring" were unstintingly praised and the clippings told of the numerous and varied copies of them that had been made and of the reproductions printed and sold.

"Spring," the picture of a beautiful outdoor scene, with a boy leaning out of a window and blowing soap bubbles, was only slightly less popular than "Look Out." Among the effects were pawn tickets for pastels, water colors and other paintings the man had to give up for necessities. All were dated within the last year.

MINERS SUFFER,
SAYS MITCHELL

Admits That Many Are on the Verge of Impending Starvation.

ALL TO BE HELPED

The Strike Will Be Kept
Up Until the End in All Parts.

NO WEAKENING YET

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
New York, Sept. 22.—President Mitchell of the Miners' Union admitted today that there are many cases of destitution among the miners and their families and that in some fields many of the miners are in the throes of starvation. These cases are, however, being cared for rapidly and the needy are being quickly supplied with all their wants.

No Conference Yet
President Mitchell said he would have no conference with the operators or their representatives while here in the city. He still reiterated his former statements that the strike situation remains unchanged and the men would not give in.

No Break Made Yet
The expected break in the ranks of the Panther Creek strikers did not occur this morning and the miners still remain firm in their demands. At Green Wood colliery unknown parties fired shots at the guard but no one was injured.

A SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY LOSES EYE

Little Ralph Morse Puts His Eye Out While Playing with a Knife.

Ralph Morse, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Morse, met with an accident on Saturday night that deprived him of the sight of his right eye.

Wanted Staple
The boy accompanied his father down to his insurance office Saturday night and secured some papers out of the waste basket that were held together with brass staple fasteners. He was anxious to get the staples out of the paper, so borrowed a small sharp pointed knife from his father. After he had been at work a short time the knife slipped off from a fastener he was prying on and as his hand flew up the sharp point cut him squarely across the pupil of the eye, penetrating deep enough to strike the lens.

No Fuss
He did not make much fuss about it and his father examined the eye and could see nothing wrong. Later his mother came in and on examining the eye discovered the cut. The child was taken to Dr. Penber's office and had the injury attended to. The doctor told them at the time that he was afraid that the sight was gone. Yesterday he was taken to Dr. Thorne's office for treatment and examination.
Dr. Thorne told them that there was a possible chance that at some time the boy might be able to see a little by the use of glasses.

REVISION OF TARIFF
AT SPECIAL SESSION

If Republican Congress is Elected It
Will be Called Together in Spring of 1903.

New York, Sept. 22.—President Roosevelt's speech to be delivered at Milwaukee next Wednesday, three days before the opening of the Ohio Campaign, is to strike the keynote of the Republican program on tariff revision, which was casually brought out in his impromptu speech at Cincinnati Saturday.

This program involves a special session of congress in the spring of 1903, provided a Republican congress is elected next November.

At the regular session of congress, which meets in December, nothing more can be done except to set committees at work in giving hearings to interested parties, thus laying the foundation for a conservative, business like revision by the Republicans at the extra session. The business interests of the country will thus have ample notice. The work of the extra session will be limited to the work of tariff revision.

This program was submitted to the conference of the senators at Oyster Bay before the president left and the general principles outlined by him at that time were heartily approved, and will, it is expected, become the basis of campaign utterances all along the line in the western states.

WORTH OF BIBLE TO ALL PEOPLE

ITS BOOKS CONTAIN ALL LINES OF KNOWLEDGE.

MASTERPIECE OF LITERATURE

Rev. J. H. Tippet Preaches an Able Sermon on "The Blessedness of Wisdom."

At the Court Street Methodist church Sunday large audiences were in attendance at both the morning and evening services to hear the Rev. J. H. Tippet on the first Sabbath after his return by the annual conference. That the pastor was gladly welcomed by the congregation was evinced by the careful attention which was accorded him at both services. In the morning the theme of the sermon was "The Minister's Equipage" while in the evening "The Blessedness of Wisdom" was the topic under discussion.

Theme From Proverbs Introductory to his discourse Rev. Tippet read the fourth chapter of Proverbs, beginning with the verse, "Hear ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding." From these words of wisdom as a motive, Rev. Tippet entered upon a general treatment of his subject.

Among all works of wisdom the Bible is the great library of the world. It has always been a misleading title to the many books embraced, since the time when an early annotator mis took the neuter plural noun "biblia" for the feminine singular. Every type of literature is embraced within its covers; history, science, poetry, theology and philosophy are all present.

All Embracing in Scope Every known subject which man has the right to discuss is also ably dealt with by the many authors who have contributed toward its composition. But above all other remarkable things about this world-library above the many topics discussed, and discussed ably, above the beauty of its diction, and the felicity of its wording, is that although it was written by so many persons, during a lapse of so many years, in so many different countries, and under such varying circumstances, there is still but one theme.

Single in Purpose Throughout the book rules the thought, repeated again and again, of the expected coming of the Messiah, his actual life upon earth, and the hope he offers for the hereafter. Jesus Christ, yesterday, today and forever. One exhortation is supreme. Get wisdom, it is the principal thing; therefore, get wisdom.

No doubt is left in this great collection of the masterpieces of literature as to what wisdom consists of. Wisdom is clearly defined as the fear of the Lord, and the fear of the Lord is in turn characterized as the hate of evil. In the New Testament the hero of the book comes out still more definitely and says that he is himself the bread of life.

Greatest Guide Book Whether a man be a Christian, or a pronounced unbeliever, he longs for life and it is in this book that instructions are given for living. Six poetic books may be regarded as in a class by themselves in dealing directly with life, and its perplexities. They are the Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Songs of Solomon and Lamentations.

These books answer the great questions of science which the child asks in his first hisping questions; these books deal with the knotty problems which the philosopher, tottering on the verge of eternity, is still seeking to solve.

Primary Questions Three questions stand out simply and pre-eminently above all others. They are What is God? What is man? What is the universe? All of them are answered directly and simply, but in the most beautiful language in these six books.

In these books the lyric form of expression is used. The emotional and passionate sides of life are presented in such form as to originally be used to the accompaniment of a musical instrument. The Psalms especially stand out in this form of style of utterance, as the great training book of life, the hymn book of the universe.

Widely Read In the English church service it is prescribed that the Psalms be read much more often than any other portion of the Bible. Many persons pour over its pages who never glance at another book of sacred literature, and some men make it the bread of their daily life. In the midst of the miseries that beset the human heart it is to the great singer of Israel that the people fly for succor.

No emotion is possible to which utterance is not given in these pages and no cry of the soul exists which was not expressed by that "poor man" who "called upon the Lord." The most joyous feeling that comes to a person is that of being in sympathy with the Creator, and frequently the poet author of these songs gives voice to the longing for that feeling.

Book of Love Among the passions which rule man there is that which exists between one man and one woman; when simple, and pure, and self sacrificing, the stay of the home; but when degraded and ulterior in motive the destroyer of the land. The songs of Solomon are given up to the expression of the exalted conception of love and of marriage.

Patriotic in Motive Lamentations is the cry of the patriot who sees the spoiler in the land, and the people forsaking their God, to take up the ways of the heathen. The yearning which a devoted citizen can feel in the depths of his soul is expressed in this book.

Made Scotch Thrifty Of the six books which have been selected as expressing wisdom, the remaining three are known as didactic. In the first of these, Proverbs, the blessedness of wisdom is presented in short current phrases, the result of a thousand years of experience.

A man who is not a Christian can give no better book to his son than this to teach the elements of success. Many have attributed the thirty characteristics of the Scotch to the prominent place which the book has always had in their home life. The editor of the New York Tribune a few years ago said that the best thesis on successful business life was the New Testament, and that Proverbs ranked second.

Rich And Happy Many young men say, "You tell us to be good and we will be rich and happy. That is not so." Perhaps it seems so to the young men, but look at the book of Job. The author lost his money, he lost his wife, he lost his money, he called her a fool—perhaps the one case in a million where a man is justified—and then his companions came and ridiculed him. But through all he remained firm in his integrity and he was rewarded more than two-fold.

Another Criticism Other young men point out another fault which seems to exist. Not only are good men often miserable in their lot, but bad men are constantly seen whose good fortune is published before the world. Another instance of distorted vision is indicated here. Is it worth while for a lover of paintings to sell his eyes that he may buy some beautiful pictures, and thereby lose his vision? When a man has sold himself, what matters it if the whole world is his?

True in Janesville Some listeners probably say, What is the use of mentioning such things, they do not affect us. Tonight on the streets of this city, there are young men who were once bright and honest, willing to look anyone squarely in the eye; there are women who once were pure and innocent girls. But they put their feet into the swiftly rushing waters of life, and were carried away in the flood, losing control of themselves, until they were swept beyond the limits of the good and upright.

Waiting To Help In answer to a question put to him, the Bishop of London once said, that the road to Heaven was to turn to the right, and keep on straight ahead. God stands ready and willing to lead the way. The moment a man turns toward wisdom and understanding God comes out to meet him. His arm is outstretched to meet the repentant sinner, and to draw him to his home.

FACTS FOR FICTION

Nowadays the early riser is especially well fitted to testify to the approach of winter.

So much is doing in the South and the Central American countries that revolutions are becoming monotonous.

That Richard Croker had nothing to say was nothing remarkable. The peculiar thing was that he admitted it.

There are a lot of volcanoes which ought to have entered on a state of innocuous desuetude that have been heard from lately.

Of course it is all right to use wood or gas for fuel this winter, but you may run the risk of being considered a "cheap skate."

He who called the state of matrimony one of the United States must have forgotten '76 and the declaration of independence.

And still the North Pole exists in its primeval loneliness. How it must long for these visitors who never get farther than the door.

It may be a trifle chilly now that the mournful days have come, but it is satisfying to know that there is no volcano within working distance.

It is comforting to learn from the assessment abstract in September 1902 that there were poor crops in 1901. We had always wondered how those crops came out.

It isn't a question of whether Peary or some other explorer came nearest to the north pole, but which can write the biggest bluff on the "Farthest North" subject.

Only six days and Beloit like Rockford will mournfully prepare to make good that deficit on the carnival and figure out the trade that the local merchants lost.

Berger says that a street carnival trust must be formed to put the one horse shows out of business, for the benefit of the public. How noble, how self-sacrificing.

Again the safe blower sallies forth, probably another victim of early acquaintance, with the interior of the "Strenuous Skylarks of Shifty Sam," an orange hued literary work.

If the Business Men's association had grasped the situation and offered a proper inducement to him to stay, Janesville might now be enjoying the distinction of having a real live wild man.

For several months the blue and the gray have been superseded by the olive drab, and yet barely a dozen eulogistic effusions have issued from the pens of blossoming poetic geniuses. Is patriotism dying out?

Col. Watterson could make himself real popular with the Janesville motor men by making some of his characteristic remarks about the women who show up twenty feet ahead of a standing car, and wait for it to come up before halting it.

The boy who can stand up and unblushingly tell the teacher that his mother needs him at home, and then go off behind the woodpile to smoke cigarettes for the rest of the day, is easily the hero since school has opened. No one thinks of calling him a sneak thief and a liar.

GIVES WELCOME TO REV. WARNER

FIRST M. E. CHURCH RECEIVES
NEW PASTOR.

OCCUPIED PULPIT YESTERDAY

Bespeaks a Year of Mutual Helpfulness in Their Relations as Pastor and People.

Members of the First M. E. church gave a cordial welcome to their new pastor, Rev. W. W. Warner, yesterday, listening to two able sermons by the man whom the conference has sent to be their spiritual leader for the coming year. Rev. Warner is not a large man in stature, but a ready and easy speaker, his manner being earnest and impressive. He speaks without notes and his style is practical and conversational, rather than oratorical.

Words Of Greeting Before entering upon the morning's sermon, Rev. Warner spoke of the new relationship upon which he and the church were entering as pastor and people. It was impossible for him to accomplish anything alone, and he bespoke their sympathy and their helplessness.

The sermon which followed was along this line of mutual helpfulness, the text chosen being the 1st verse of the sixth chapter of Second Corinthians: "We then as workers together with him beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain."

Work A Blessing Work is blessed because of the fact that it is a man's normal condition, although not always the pleasantest condition. A Frenchman once said that all men are alike in that all men love laziness. Work is blessed because it develops man and under it he gains strength. Those who win athletic honors do so at the expense of a great deal of exercise. What is true in the physical world is true also in the spiritual world.

Work is also blessed on account of the fact that it creates interest in the object of one's work. As the mother toils for her children her interest in them grows more absorbing. The pastor, who has given long years of service to one church, becomes greatly attached to it and the more he toils the greater becomes his affection. So it is in all lines. Work intensifies interest.

Work Together Although man becomes better and stronger by his labors, work alone is not so blessed as work together. This is an age of combination and corporations. If the word corporation could only be spelled co-operation, all the labor difficulties which exist today could be done away with. The capitalists would have the laborers' interest at heart and the laboring man would appreciate the care and responsibility which rests on his employer and take care of the employer's interests.

Through co-operation, the failings of one man are supplemented by the strength of another. It is true in business and true everywhere that two working together are stronger than one. Co-operation enables man to use machinery. By the aid of steam one man can do the work of eighteen.

Gain God's Aid By combining forces men secure the aid of the Lord. In his word he says that one man shall chase one thousand but that two shall put ten thousand to flight.

In The Church In the Christian church where people are working together the weakness of one is supplemented by the strength of others and much more is accomplished by working together than apart. In time of war, forces are marshalled together under the leadership of one mind. In time of peace, factories and cities carry on the work of civilization.

The Golden Rule God's plan for society is that all men shall so work and live together that the golden rule is all the law the nation or the individual needs. Man, starting alone in the garden, is to so adapt himself to living with others in harmony as to make possible the new Jerusalem where society is perfect.

Work With God The noblest sight on earth is not the victory of a Wellington, a Napoleon or a Caesar. It is a young man bowing himself in secret before God and struggling to live a life of usefulness. God is fitting man not only for individual effort but working together. So dearly does he cherish this purpose that he has promised that where two or three are gathered together in his name he will be with them.

Man must also realize the importance of being workers together with him. In these industrial days men realize the need of a superintendent. Men need to work with him who has promised his aid and direction.

Neglected Riches The grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared unto every man. A man was once heard to bemoan the fact that as a boy he had played over one of the wealthiest mines of the world without knowing it and that he had gone out in the world to seek for gold when a wealth of it was hidden in his father's land at home. So some people are ignorant of the riches of God. He has introduced each one into manliness and womanliness. Let no one play over the wealth of God's grace which is sufficient for every day.

WHO IS MISTAKEN? It is unfortunate for the republican party in the state, that new complications have added fuel to the flame which was already at white heat. The statement recently published by Mr. Buckstaff and Senator Stout was a startling revelation, which caused many men to stop and think. Its truthfulness was generally accepted, because both men are noted for veracity.

Mr. Kronshage, chairman of the Milwaukee county republican committee and a staunch supporter of the governor, was made a party to the scandal, and his denial of many of the charges, is also strong and emphatic.

While it is possible in the heat of discussion to misconstrue, and statements are sometimes warped and misunderstood, the public will be slow to believe that men of the character of Messrs. Stout and Buckstaff, would deliberately make charges that are false. Mr. Kronshage weakens his defense by an attack on the methods and motives of Supt. Harvey. No public man in the state enjoys the confidence of the people to greater extent than does Mr. Harvey. His acquaintance is state-wide and public sentiment was with him in his intelligent and progressive work. There is no argument in the statement that he should expect to retire at the end of the second term, or that he was planning for a life position. Whatever legislation may be accomplished for the betterment of the schools, will be the result of Mr. Harvey's tireless energy in this direction. He believed that the office should be removed from politics, and worked for that accomplishment.

Whatever may be the outcome as to the question of veracity between the contending parties, Mr. Kronshage has gained nothing by his unwarranted attack on Supt. Harvey.

THE POSTHUMOUS BOOK OF PROF. GOFF

D. D. Mayne is Making the Late Scholar's Book Ready for the Printers.

D. D. Mayne, lately of the Janesville public schools is now engaged in preparing the manuscript for a text book entitled "First Lessons in Agriculture." Orders for the publication of the book, which is the work of the late Professor Emmett S. Goff of the state university were issued by the county court of Madison, and it is believed that it will have a large sale.

Posthumous Publication Among the manuscripts of Prof. Goff was found this work which was written shortly before his death, and it was believed that it was of such a character that it was not right that it should be lost. Orders were therefore given to C. F. Cronk, the administrator of the Goff estate, to attend to its publication, and Mr. Mayne was selected to aid in the work by preparing the manuscripts for the printers.

INCREASE Y. M. C. A. CLASS NUMBERS

Junior Gymnasium Work Has Many Additions During the Past Week.

In the last week the Junior Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class has increased in numbers from twenty to thirty and more are expected to join soon. The first practical talk to the class was given by W. E. Mack Saturday morning.

Helpful Talk The boys seemed to be thoroughly interested in the talk and paid careful attention. Each is determined that he will win the five dollar gold piece which Dr. Richards has offered for the most regular attendance in the class.

HAVERLY'S MASTODON MINSTRELS.

George Wilson, the famous minstrel, who is this season the star of Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels, began his career in the field of drama. It was only by accident that he was identified with minstrelsy, but as Kipling says, "that is another story." To a party of friends recently, Mr. Wilson was recalling interesting and humorous incidents of the pioneer days of the drama in California, and one of these reminiscences may be repeated. It is given in his own language.

"Years ago—it doesn't matter how many—I took a little dramatic company from 'Frisco into the interior of the state. We reached one little town where we were booked to play a week, and as the number of theater patrons were extremely limited, we found, that to do a profitable business, it would be necessary to change the bill every night. We only had two plays in our repertoire, and as even the best studies couldn't get up in four or five more other pieces in as many days, naturally we had to recourse to faking. Towards the end of the week we put out a military piece—I forgot now just what it was—but in one of the scenes we were all soldiers behind a barricade resisting the horde of 'super' Indians. As only our heads above the mimic barricade were visible to the audience, I conceived the brilliant idea of escaping unnecessary study by reading the parts in this scene from the books. We were so well screened that I felt sure that the audience would never be able to detect us. The idea was all right and worked like a charm, until one of the clumsy 'supers' fell against the flimsy barricade and knocked it flat on the stage. When it fell, there the actors all stood, each holding before him a yellow covered play book, and wearing the most sheepish look you ever saw. The shout that went up from the audience, I shall never forget."

"Knickerbocker" Waists...

We bought "Knickerbocker" Waists for fall and winter on the strength of the fact that they were taking well in the cities and also because shirt waists made of Henry Cotton Mererized Materials were being advocated by so prominent a manufacturer as the maker of "Knickerbocker" Waists. Although made of cotton, they are as warm as wool and are taking well. They launder nicely and fit perfectly, which has been proven to the entire satisfaction of many women.

The accompanying cut represents a $2.50 number, a stylish production. White and light cream are in high favor, and white with black dots or stripes sell well. We show many styles at $1.50 to $6.00.

Embroideries...

They are always in demand. A large shipment of beautiful new embroideries recently received. The last lot came to $6.50. They were selected with great care and include Nainsook, Swiss, Hamburg, Revere, Edgings and Insertions, and lovely matched sets.

Furs-- $5,000 Worth...

It has sprung up—the demand for Furs. We are loaded for you. Placed orders Very Early, while some merchants were sleeping. We have found that it pays to get our order in early, for we get better skins then and very much lower prices on all desirable Furs Chicago and Milwaukee houses positively do not sell reliable Furs as low as we do. Not hard to prove in. Be fair with yourself, do not rush off and throw your good money away by paying fancy city prices, but look in Janesville first. We sell a genuine Marten Scarf with six full tails, fine and soft, at $6.00. Are showing all the leading skins in Scarfs, Boas, Jackets, Capes, Storm Collars, Muffs and beautiful Sets for Misses and Children. $100 is as high as any garment we have in stock. Our stock of medium priced Furs is very large.

A WAY WE HAVE IN THE ARMY

ABLE BODIED MEN, NOT BOYS, ARE WANTED

SERG'T BRINKMAN EXPLAINS

Soldiers of Today Have Great Opportunities for Advancement and Increased Pay.

According to Sergeant Brinkman, recruiting officer of the United States Army, great opportunities are opened up at the present time to anyone who should decide to enlist. Only the best men are wanted, and for them there are many openings for advancement, while the wages compare more than favorably with those of the average workman or clerk.

For All Branches.

This statement applies equally, he says, for all branches of the service and it is for all branches that he is ready to receive recruits. Infantry, cavalry, field and coast artillery, engine and signal corps, and the hospital corps are included. None but able bodied men of good character are wanted, and preferably those men who are ready to calmly decide upon the army for life, or until the time comes when they must be mustered out for old age.

No Minors Wanted

Especially is it essential the applicant should be a man. No boys are wanted in the service at the present time, and if the examining physician is not satisfied that the applicant is twenty-one years of age, sufficient evidence will be required before he will be passed. In past years too much trouble and expense has been caused by boys who have enlisted in a spirit of devilry or thoughtlessness, and have for one reason or another been mustered out again, in some cases only a few weeks after the time of enlistment. Every case of the kind requires railroad transportation to the soldiers' home, the expense of securing a substitute to fill his place, and endless red tape.

For Better Army

Efforts are now being made to raise the standard of the army by accepting only grown men who know their minds, and who are willing to re-enlist when their term has expired. At the same time no men will be accepted who are more than thirty-five years of age. Sergeant Brinkman was enthusiastic over the results which will be gained from a strict observance of these principles toward elevating the standard of the regular army. As he said, "We don't want the army so much on the jump."

Hope for Promotion

In two years a man with a good education can obtain a commission, according to the sergeant. Men who have special trades have a greater opportunity than that. One instance which he named is that of any man who could pass a successful examination as a pharmacist. For such a one it would be an easy matter to gain promotion to the rank of hospital steward, he would then draw a salary of forty-five dollars a month, above all his expenses. "Show me a druggist in this city clearing forty-five dollars a month above his expenses," said he.

Philippines Full

No promise will be given to an enlisted man at this time of seeing foreign service. The ranks of the army in the Philippines island may possibly be replenished from these new recruits but such an assignment cannot be assured a man at this time. Many have in the past joined the army simply for the sake of traveling around the world, but it is no longer possible to take men with the understanding that they shall be given an opportunity to see other lands.

Special Chances

Numerous examples were cited by the sergeant of men who had gone to the army as barbers, tailors, or tradesmen in other lines, and have been able to make a handsome profit outside of their regular pay. Musicians, too, were offered a good place with a hope of advanced pay soon after being taken into the service.

Blake Will Stay

Private Blake, who is here with Sergeant Brinkman, will stay here for some time, but his superior officer has already returned to Milwaukee. This city will be known as an auxiliary or substitution to Milwaukee, and men from the surrounding section of the state will be enlisted here. Beloit, Evansville, and other surrounding towns will be thoroughly billed, with the hope of attracting many men.

Literary Note.

Mr. H. W. Boynton, who contributes so acceptably the criticism of current books to the Atlantic Monthly, takes up in the September number the great subject of American Humor. After postulating the perennial but too often forgotten distinction between humor and facetiousness, Mr. Boynton proceeds to distribute, each into his due department, the various persons engaged in carrying on "the torch of jocosity" in America. It is a paper which should be particularly satisfactory to people who are given to thinking about what they read.

"The Things That are Caesar's"

From time to time there springs from the pen of some new writer a novel touching upon an every-day theme—a theme so familiar that we have ceased to accord it that degree of importance to which it is entitled. Such a problem Mr. Kaufman has presented in the form of an interesting novel under the title of "The Things That are Caesar's." It is based upon the old question of whether or not a man having violated the laws made for the protection of society, and then paying the penalty prescribed therefor has canceled the debt. One is inclined to answer, Yes. But will society recognize the fact that the score has been wiped out? Mr. Kaufman has draw this characters only too true to life, and they play around this question with a fidelity that causes the reader a twinge of conscience as he realizes how nearly like his own unconsidered actions these would be.—D. Appleton & Company, publishers.

The Old Time Machine Shop.

The machine work fifty years ago was not as good as it is now, one reason being that the machines themselves were defective not only in weight and design, but in workmanship as well; another reason was that in many cases the fitter had to go over the work again in any event so that it would be time wasted to complete the little work in the lathe. To be truthful, I must add that the fitting was by no means what it should have been, not so much through carelessness on the part of the men as from the lack of instruments of precision for measuring. First and last, these consisted mainly of callipers, inside and out, and a two-foot boxwood rule. Now if this last had been a consistent member of a large family it would have been in harmony with the others; but the trouble was that it differed in minute degrees of assertion as to the length of an inch and fractions thereof, so that where different men went with different rules, all of them giving false testimony, the results were not at all surprising, and the boxwood rules fell into disrepute as guides of accuracy.—E. P. Watson, in The Engineering Magazine for September.

A New Magazine.

A new illustrated magazine, with the taking title of "The Reader" is to be started in New York next month. "The Reader" announces that it will provide the reading public of the United States with a literary magazine, at once entertaining, unprejudiced and authoritative. Further than this it promises to be good and popular, and not only will it occupy such literary departments as reviews, bibliography, libraries and drama, but its contents will include short stories, poems and several popular literary articles of general interest each month. It is to be a 25-cent magazine and conducted on a large scale.

The cover design, by Mr. Alfred Brennan, is exceedingly attractive, and represents two opposite types of readers—an old bookman lovingly handling an Aldus or an Elzevir, and a twentieth century young lady unobtrusively pursuing the latest popular novel.

The list of contributors already announced includes such well-known writers as: Gelett Burgess, John D. Barry, Alice Brown, Bliss, Carman, "Mr. Dooley," Caroline Duer, Edwin Emerson, Jr., Charles Macomb Plandau, Elliot Gregory, Aline Gorren, Oliver Herford, Rollin Lynde Hartt, R. V. Risley, Louis Evan Shipman, Henry Turrell and John B. Tabb.

Gives women that womanly beauty, refined into its fullest splendor that dazzles the eyes of mankind. That's what Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35c. Smith's Pharmacy.

"I feel inclined to respect any firm that advertises in a high-class magazine, and unless there is some particular reason to the contrary am willing to trust their honesty. I have always regarded handbills as cheap and irresponsible, and usually think of the goods advertised in this way as belonging to the same category."—Mahl's Magazine, August.

MILLIONS FOR IRRIGATION PLANT

Mammoth Canal to Divert Waters of the Loup in Nebraska.

Columbus, Neb., Sept. 22.—The Nebraska Central Irrigation company has completed arrangements for the construction of a $3,000,000 power and irrigation canal, and the work of building it will begin in a short time. The canal will divert the water of the Loup river from a point near West Point through the canal to an immense reservoir near this city. From this reservoir the water will have a fall of ninety feet, with an outlet into the Platte river, and besides furnishing 20,000 horse power will irrigate several thousand acres of land.

HALF CENTURY IN THE PULPIT

Indiana Clergymen to Celebrate at Meeting of Presbyterian Synod.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 22.—The Indiana synod of the Presbyterian church has been called to convene at Goshen Oct. 3. The meeting will be held at Goshen in honor of Dr. H. L. Van Nuy, who will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his pastorate of the Presbyterian church on that day. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. D. W. Moffat, who has been in charge of the First church of Fort Wayne for over thirty years. Dr. Moffat and Dr. Van Nuy are the oldest pastors in point of service in the synod.

OFFER NEW TIN PLATE SCALE

Lodges to Vote Upon a Proposition Submitted by the Officials.

Pittsburg, Sept. 22.—At the conference of the representatives of the American Tin Plate company and the conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Iron Workers it is understood that the tin plate officials submitted a new proposition to the tin workers, which will be presented to the lodges for a vote. Its nature was not made public.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Bedford, Ind., Sept. 22.—Martin Collier, charged with poisoning his family and several other people who were boarders at his home, was arraigned in court. He had agreed with his attorney to plead guilty and it caused great surprise when he pleaded not guilty. The case was continued. It is said Collier will make a special plea of insanity when the case comes up.

POWERS AGAINST AMERICA'S NOTE

LITTLE CHANCE OF AGREEMENT

Doubt is Expressed as to Ability of Governments to Get Together and Form a Joint Answer That Will Be Satisfactory to All.

Vienna, Sept. 22.—The powers signatory of the Berlin treaty are endeavoring to arrange an identical reply to the note of Secretary of State Hay concerning the treatment of Jews in Roumania. Austria, which has excellent relations with Roumania, is especially energetic in this direction.

According to the present arrangements, the Vienna and Berlin cabinets have decided to decline the American proposition. Although their answers will be couched in very courteous terms, the United States will be given to understand that only the signatories of the treaty have the right to give decisions or take action on the question of the treatment of foreigners in Roumania.

Doubt Ability to Agree.

It is doubtful in initiated circles whether a joint answer can be arrived at, although Germany, Russia and Austria desire it.

Neither Austria nor Russia is willing to support the appeal made by the United States in behalf of the Jews of Roumania. It is admitted that the treatment of the Roumanian Jews infringes the treaty of Berlin of 1878, but it is only one of numerous cases in which this treaty has been violated without the signatories protesting.

Press is Hostile.

The conservative and clerical press of Berlin is hostile in its attitude to the American note concerning the Jews in Roumania, but the indications are that the government will not commit itself to a course of action calculated to frustrate the objects of the American initiative. The Cologne Gazette prints an inspired Berlin communication, in which it is observed that the Roumanians have not got a good case. It admits that the object of the Roumanians is to get rid of their Jews, but is convinced that this object will not be achieved by a policy of efficiency such as the American circular criticizes.

Put Clamps on Money.

Other European states are as averse as is America to the immigration of destitute aliens. The various charitable funds at the disposal of Jewish communities cannot undertake to cope with a social problem of such magnitude. Thus the friends of the Jews find themselves reduced to the necessity of putting pressure on the Roumanian government by the influence they are able to exert on the money markets of the world, on the good will of which Roumania is peculiarly dependent in view of the position of her finances. The dispatch concludes by strongly urging the Roumanians to deal with the Jewish problem so as to remove the present grievances of the Jews and obviate the recurrence of unwelcome incidents such as the American circular.

FINED $1,500 BY TRADE UNION

Heavy Penalty on Farmer Officer Who Refused to Strike.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 22.—James McCarrick, former president of the Boller-makers' union of Kansas City, Kan., has been fined $1,500 by his former coworkers for refusing to walk out when the order came for the strike of the Union Pacific employees. It is said to be the largest fine ever imposed on a recalcitrant by a labor organization. McCarrick has been in the employ of the Union Pacific company for thirty years. Recently the bent union tried the former members who did not strike and, besides McCarrick, others were fined sums averaging $200 each.

SAFE BLOWERS LOSE THE BOOTY

Drop Money They Had Taken from Car Company at Janesville.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 22.—The safe in the office of the Janesville Street Railway company was blown open with nitroglycerin by three masked men, who overpowered the watchman and bound him. The safe was blown to atoms. The watchman freed himself an hour later and gave the alarm. The thieves were in the Janesville pearl button factory at the time preparing to blow the safe and fled at the alarm, leaving behind them the money they had taken from the street car safe.

Prince's Aim Is Bad.

No Time to Lose

You cannot afford to disregard the warnings of a weak and diseased heart and put off taking the prescription of the world's greatest authority on heart and nervous disorders—

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

If your heart palpitates, flutters, or you are short of breath, have smothering spells, pain in left side, shoulder or arm, you have heart trouble and are liable to drop dead any moment.

Major J. W. Woodcock, one of the best known operators in the country, dropped dead from heart disease recently, at his home in Portland, Ind., while mowing his lawn.—The Press.

Mrs. M. A. Bidsall, Watkins, N. Y., whose portrait heads this advertisement, says: "I write this through gratitude for benefits I received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I had palpitation of the heart, severe pains under the left shoulder, and my general health was miserable. A few bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me entirely."

THE KINDERGARTEN.
Complaint is being very justly made by the people of the first ward in regard to the kindergarten. The sixth grade has been crowded out of one of the buildings to accommodate the little people, and many of the scholars are obliged to walk long distances.

The school board are doubtless using their best judgment in the matter, but the board should understand that the kindergarten is regarded by many tax payers as an innovation of doubtful expediency. While popular sentiment favored the movement, there was more or less opposition on the part of men who are called upon to contribute largely to city finances.

It should be possible to provide rooms for these half day schools would accommodate the little people without encroaching upon the rights of older scholars. The education of a four-year-old child is largely a matter of intelligent entertainment and wholesome exercises. Many of the little tots must be taken to and from school, and if they miss a session now and then, it does not seriously affect their standing.

The city is increasing in population and many of the school buildings are already crowded. Better hire rooms, or private houses if necessary, for kindergarten work for the present, than to spend money for buildings or discontinue the grades.

The people are weary of extravagance in city affairs, and if the school board is wise it will avoid criticism by keeping in close touch with public sentiment.

CONSUMPTION OF SUGAR.
The people of the United States now consume eight times as much sugar per capita as they did in the first quarter of the century, four times as much as the average per capita during the decade ending with 1850, and twice as much as they did any year prior to 1870. In the years immediately prior to 1825 the average consumption of sugar was about eight pounds per capita. In the decade 1840-50, about sixteen pounds per capita, in the years immediately prior to 1870 the average was about thirty two pounds per capita, (omitting the war years, in which the consumption was light), from 1870 to 1880 it averaged about forty pounds per capita, from 1880 to 1890 fifty pounds per capita; in 1891 the figures were sixty-six pounds per capita, and has ranged from sixty-two to sixty-eight pounds per capita since that time, the figure for 1901 being 68.4 pounds. This steady growth in the per capita consumption of sugar is shown by some figures which the Bureau of Statistics will present in the next issue of its annual volume, the Statistical Abstract.

The per capita consumption has been a matter of record during recent years, but it has not been before practicable to compare the per capita consumption of recent years with that of earlier years and note the very rapid increase in the quantity consumed by each individual of the country.

This growth in the consumption of sugar is, evidently, not confined to the people of the United States. The increase seems to be equally as rapid in other parts of the world, judging from the figures of total production. Figures recently published by the bureau of statistics in its monograph "The World's Sugar Production and Consumption," showed that the sugar production of the world was eight times as great in 1900 as in 1840, the figure for 1840 being 1,150,000 tons and that for 1900, 8,800,000.

This increase in production, and consequently in consumption, has come largely through the development of the beet sugar industry, which increased from a production of 50,000 tons in 1840 to 200,000 tons in 1850, 821,000 tons in 1870, 1,402,000 tons in 1880, 3,363,000 in 1890, and 5,950,000 tons in 1900. During the same time, cane sugar production increased from 1,400,000 tons in 1840 to 2,850,000 tons in 1900. Beets in 1840 supplied 4.35 per cent. of the total sugar product of the world;

in 1850 they supplied 14.29 per cent.; in 1860, 20.43 per cent.; in 1870, 34.10 per cent.; in 1880, 63.70 per cent., and in 1900, 67.71 per cent.

The per capita consumption of sugar in the United States is greater than that of any other country, except the United Kingdom, in which the annual consumption ranges from $5 to 91 pounds per capita, against from 60 to 68 pounds in the United States, the figure of consumption for 1900 in the United Kingdom being 91.6 pounds per capita.

Honorable David Rose speaks in the opera house tonight. He is a good talker, says funny things and expounds the doctrines of democracy in a side splitting manner. Come early and avoid the rush for all vacant seats will be turned up after he begins to talk and the doors will be locked after the crowd gets out.

It is the duty of the voters of Rock county to send three men to the next legislature who are firmly convinced that the one thing that will benefit the state of Wisconsin and the United States at large by voting "unconditionally" for Senator John C. Spooner.

Although recent frosts have done some damage to corn, still it is true that the tobacco crop is not damaged to any great extent and smokers can rejoice that they will have plenty to smoke if they do not have enough coal and corn meal to live comfortably on.

Many of the democratic papers are flapping about the political chopping block like chickens with heads cut off. Some day soon they will flop into line for Mayor Rose and lay the cause that it is the choice between two evils.

Mr. Kronshage has said Mr. Buckstaff and Senator Stout had better get ear trumpets so that they can understand all that is being said to them when wily politicians are discussing money matters.

PRESS COMMENT.

Racine Journal: Such men as Senator Spooner are too valuable to their country to be sacrificed for local ambitions.

Galveston News: There is nothing so serene and sweet and restful as night in grand old Texas.

Minneapolis Journal: Firing coal mines will not win strikes. The strikers should make no greater error.

Chicago Chronicle: It appears that the Chinese "boxers" are in revolt because they object to paying their taxes.

Viroqua Censor: Vernon county farmers are just now in the midst of the heaviest tobacco harvest they have ever had. It will be a million dollar crop for them.

New York World: The facts which the last census have brought out regarding the boy and girl wage workers of the country are a national sorrow.

Sheboygan Telegram: The voters in Wisconsin are noted for their independence. They are neither blind party worshippers nor hero worshippers.

Green Bay Gazette: The lesson to be learned from the coal strike is a plain one. Laws should be passed by the next congress which will prevent such struggles in the future.

Minneapolis Journal: The Iowa democrats did not think it necessary to bind themselves to the dead corpse of the Kansas City platform, in which respect they differ from the Ohio democrats.

Eau Claire Leader: It is a remarkable fact that the finest crops raised in Eau Claire county this year were grown on the asylum farm and were cultivated by the patients of that institution.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Ezra, king of heaven" may be crazy on some subjects, but he has no hallucinations respecting the injustice and unconstitutionality of the police "sweat box."

Brandon Times: The belief that has gained ground among the democrats that the Sixth district is surely democratic may receive a shock if the republicans nominate a good, strong man and put up a strong fight.

Washington Star: Boston recently had a fire which did $11,000 damage and went out without being discovered, and that city is now prepared to dispute Philadelphia's claim to being the slowest city in the country.

Green Bay Gazette: Wisacres are prophesying that all the cool summer means a warm fall and winter. In the face of the coal strike it is to be devoutly hoped that they may guess it right this time.

Milwaukee News: It now remains to be seen if David will prove as fast in a long distance race as he has shown himself to be in the sprinting stunts he has been doing about town in the recent municipal campaigns.

Kansas City Journal: The Atlanta Constitution has information that Senator Burton is industriously waging the bloody shirt. Nonsense, Senator Burton is in the Sandwich Islands, where shirts are waived by popular consent and custom.

Madison Democrat: There is the fear that Mr. Isaac Stephenson will be a sorely disappointed one, Governor La Follette may have his ideas about the senatorship but of course it isn't a matter he can be expected to worry about when the milk is once split.

Marquette Star: Dave Rose secured the democratic nomination for governor, and he will evince his confidence in his own election by hanging on to his office as mayor of Milwaukee so that he will have something to hang on to in case he isn't elected governor.

St. Paul Globe: Colonel Watterson has gone gunning for the aristocracy of New York and Newport, but for some time to come Mr. Cleveland will continue to dodge when he hears the crack of the colonel's Kentucky rifle.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: Rose threatens to storm the state in the forthcoming campaign. He is all "bluff" and "wind" and the people long ago have classed him where he belongs. He will never be governor of the state of Wisconsin that is certain. La Follette will be elected by 100,000 majority.

Evening Wisconsin: The saying that the automobile has come to stay will not be verified until the amateurs and professional chauffeurs become more careful. Just now, instead of staying, the automobiles are going—into kindling wood and junk—and taking some of their reckless owners and victims with them.

Chicago Chronicle: Mrs. Roosevelt, no doubt meant to be very severe upon Boris when she openly avoided his presence at Oyster Bay, but if the supply of liquid refreshments was generous—as it undoubtedly was—it is probable that his royal highness didn't know she was absent—or who was present for that matter.

Oshkosh Times: Democratic editors shouldn't be too hard on the republican brethren. It should be remembered, and remembered kindly, too, that every time the stalwart or half-breed fires a shot at a democrat he has to take breath and fire an intermediate shot at Bob or Charley as the case may be. Thus both of them are doing double duty and cannot be expected to give the miserable democrats the attention they deserve.

Omaha Bee: A strike has been called a peaceful war, but unfortunately the tendency for it to become real war is not always successfully repressed. The strikers know their clutches with the authorities hurt their cause more than anything else. If their most intelligent leaders had their way the contests would at all times be peaceful.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press: It is said that the American golf ball is invading England and is causing no end of excitement.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Why should Mrs. Vanderbilt be criticised for spending $100,000 on a ball?

BOLD ROBBERS LOOT A SALOON

HARRY VAN GILDER'S PLACE IS ENTERED.

MAKE A THOROUGH SEARCH

They Secured $1.80 in Money,
Some Whiskey and Plug
Tobacco.

The Elk saloon on North Main street owned by Harry Van Gilder, lost $1.80, some whiskey, plug tobacco and cigars, as the result of a visit by burglars Saturday night. The damage done to the fixtures of the place amounted to much more than the booty secured by the thieves.

The $1.80 was in the drawer of the cash register, the balance of the receipts of the day and the money on hand, having been hidden in a secure place by the proprietor.

The burglary must have happened about 1 or 2 o'clock and was discovered by John Helmer, the bartender, when he went down to clean up on Sunday morning.

Entered By Window

The thieves gained an entrance to the saloon by throwing a rock through one of the rear windows, breaking the glass in the sash and making a hole large enough for a man to reach in and unlatch the window catch. The rock was thrown with such force that it struck a partition opposite the window, making a large dent in the boards. After breaking the glass and moving the catch, they slit the screen covering the lower part of the window part way down and tore it to the balance of the way, making an opening large enough for a man to get through easily and slipped through into the saloon.

Took Their Time

Once inside, the thieves took their time to make a careful search of the saloon. They opened and ransacked every drawer turning the papers and other things upside down in their search for money. They opened the cash register, securing $1.80 in money and then made a systematic search for any money that might be hidden about the bar. They came very close to it once, but did not look far enough.

Helped Themselves

They helped themselves liberally to the whiskey in the bar bottles and broke off half a big plug of tobacco. They visited the case of bottle goods at the front of the saloon outside the bar and took a bottle or two of Underwood and some cigars. They also went into the private office in the front end of the place and ransacked the desk, but found nothing of value.

Broke Banjo

Mr. Van Gilder has a mechanical banjo in the saloon which is run by dropping a nickel in the slot. The thieves turned their attention to this and pried off the front breaking it badly and doing considerable damage. They pried open the battery box, thinking this contained the money that was in the machine. They next started on the money drawer in the machine and either could not get it open or were frightened away before they accomplished it. The drawer is badly bruised, showing where they tried to pry it open with a screw driver or some iron tool.

Left By Door

The thieves not finding any money made their exit into the alley by the rear door, which they unbarred and left standing open. They carried off with them two collar keys probably with an idea of using them at some future time. Mr. VanGilder has had the locks on the door replaced by new ones so that the stolen keys are no good to the thieves.

Local Work

The whole job savors strongly of the work of local amateurs, who were well acquainted with the place and no doubt were in there Saturday night before the saloon was closed up. The thing that is bothering Mr. VanGilder is, where was the night policeman and the night watchman. The saloon was lighted so that anyone going along the street could see inside and the swinging doors at the end of the bar were open so that a view of the interior could be had. It is evident that the night watchman did not make a trip through the alley or he would have found the door open.

The Other Burglary

It is said that the thieves that visited the Street Railway office and the Janesville Pearl Button works on Friday night, were at the P. Hohenadel Jr. Co. factory and made an effort to get into the office, but were frightened away by the men employed there nights.

LADIES TO PLAY GOLF TOMORROW

First Round Over the Valentine

Afternoon.

The first round of match play for the Valentine medal for ladies, will take place on Tuesday afternoon on the Mississippi links. It will be a handicap match at 9 holes over the long course. The handicap and games committee have taken the names of all the ladies who have signified their intention of contesting and arranged handicaps for them and paired them off. This does not stop any other of the lady members of the club from taking part in the contest if they will hand in their names to Secretary Baker their handicap will be fixed and a match arranged for them.

The Pairing

The pairs that will play together tomorrow with the handicap allowed are: Belle Mae Lean, 9, Helen Fifield, 12; Mrs. J. C. Page, 0, Mrs. F. S. Taggart, 6; Agnes Shumway, 12, Elsie Nowlan, 15; Elizabeth Schieker, 0, Catherine Fifield, 9. Mrs. Page and Mrs. Belle Mae Lean, 12, Helen Fifield, 12, scratch, the balance of the players being given a handicap over them.

Mixed Foursome

To fill out the afternoon there will be a mixed foursome approaching and putting contest for prizes in which all can join.

CANDIDATE ROSE HERE TONIGHT

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE TO ADDRESS FAITHFUL TONIGHT

AT THE MYERS OPERA HOUSE

To Arrive About 7 O'clock—Will Be Met at the Depot by Citizens and the Imperial Band.

Mayor David S. Rose, the nominee of the faithful democrats, will speak on the principles and doctrines of democracy at the Myers Grand Opera House this evening. He will arrive on a special train sometime about seven o'clock from Ft. Atkinson and will be escorted to the opera house by a committee of leading democratic citizens led by the Imperial band.

On His Tour
Mr. Rose is on his whirlwind tour of the state. He is traveling in a private train with plenty of able assistants and a fund of speeches to deliver at the different cities he visits.

He is accompanied by his brother, Robert Rose, as private secretary and he is managing the big mayor of Milwaukee with an iron hand. Mr. Rose has acted as private secretary for the Silver Tangled Boy Orator of the Platte during two presidential campaigns and knows what is required. Milwaukee newspapers also have their representatives aboard.

Today's Work

This morning Mayor Rose and his special train left Milwaukee for another week's campaign. His total schedule thus far arranged for the present week calls for forty-four speeches an average of over seven a day. Today Mayor Rose has spoken in Wales, Dousman, Sullivan, Helenville, Jefferson and is now at Ft. Atkinson leaving there to arrive here about seven. Tomorrow he will open his day's talking at Evansville and will then speak at Brooklyn, Oregon, Waukegan, Dane, Lad, Merrimac and Harbaco.

Met by Band

While no special arrangements have been made for his reception here by the local democratic political leaders still it is understood that the faithful will all meet at the depot in time to escort the mayor and his party to the opera house and that an impromptu procession will doubtless be formed led by the Imperial band.

RECEPTION GIVEN AT FETHERS' HOME

Society/People Entertained Royally on Saturday Evening by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Fethers.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Hoffman Fethers entertained about one hundred of their friends very handsomely at a reception given at their spacious home, 51 St. Lawrence Place. The reception hours were from eight until ten o'clock and the gathering was a brilliant society event, an entire absence of formality conspiring with the gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Fethers in making the evening one of rare pleasure for all present.

No detail which could contribute to the comfort or pleasure of the guests had been omitted. The home was beautifully decorated with choice cut flowers and during the evening Smith's orchestra furnished an exquisite concert program. Elaborate and elegant refreshments were served in the dining room and the corner in which the punch was served provided a popular retreat throughout the entire evening.

WIRES ARE NOW AT CITY LIMITS

AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY AT WORK.

ARE USING OLD PHONE POLES

Same Wires Are To Be Used for Telegraph and Telephone Service.

Within a few days the lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph company from Milwaukee into this city for which a franchise was asked some time ago but not granted, will be completed. Workmen have been occupied since June on this part of the great long distance system with which the company is now undertaking to cover the entire country. The poles of the Wisconsin Telephone company have been used to string the wires, and the general understanding is that the two companies are the same, the one being national in its scope, but both being the same Bell system.

Reset Wisconsin Poles

In order that it might not be necessary to purchase a new right of way and since the two lines are supposed to be the same, the poles of the Wisconsin Telephone company were used, being reset, and in most cases new and higher poles substituted. The line runs into the city on North Main street, the poles having been reset within the last few days. The A. T. and T. wires are located on a cross arm at the very top of the poles, above the Wisconsin wires, and are six in number, the same wires being used for telephone and telegraph service.

WHO PAID FOR IT?

Over on the North Side in Chicago, there lives a real estate man who, since retiring from active business life several years ago, has devoted the greater part of his time to charitable work. It is said that no beggar was ever turned away from his door empty handed, or does he allow a hungry tramp to seek elsewhere for the food necessary to satisfy his appetite. It is accented on the street by one seeking alms, whom he thinks really needy, his hand is ever ready to bring forth the amount of their asking, and never once, his friends say, has he been made the victim of a professional or fooled by a man who wanted the price of a drink. This story proves the assertion.

A week or so ago while the north-sider was waiting for a car a decrepit, hollow-eyed fellow who looked more dead than alive, touched him on the arm and in a pitiful tone of voice asked for a nickel.

"What do you want it for?" asked the man of property, who suspected in an instant the request was made in the face of an unquenched thirst.

"Kind, sir," was the reply, "I have tasted nothing for twenty hours. I'd

It is accented on the street by one seeking alms, whom he thinks really needy, his hand is ever ready to bring forth the amount of their asking, and never once, his friends say, has he been made the victim of a professional or fooled by a man who wanted the price of a drink. This story proves the assertion.

A week or so ago while the north-sider was waiting for a car a decrepit, hollow-eyed fellow who looked more dead than alive, touched him on the arm and in a pitiful tone of voice asked for a nickel.

"What do you want it for?" asked the man of property, who suspected in an instant the request was made in the face of an unquenched thirst.

"Kind, sir," was the reply, "I have tasted nothing for twenty hours. I'd like a sandwich. The price isn't much to give."

The man who more often figures his gifts in the thousands than otherwise, looked keenly into the other's eyes, decided what he would do, and then handed out the nickel.

A few minutes later both were going down the street; the man with the nickel clutched tightly against his palm was headed for the nearest saloon, and the giver of the same was a half a block in the rear. The pace was fast but the race short.

The real estate owner walked behind the screen just in time to see his money laid down for a glass of foaming beer. He walked straight to the bar, raised the glass to his lips, and with five or six swallows drained its contents, while the man with the sandwich appetite made a hasty exit through the side door.

"Rather a queer deal that," put in the bar tender who had been too astonished by the performance to say anything before.

"A trifle out of the ordinary, I'll admit," was the return, "but it was my drink because I paid for it;" and he left without another word of explanation while the few loafers who were gathered around looked at each other in amazement.

That man behind the bar tells today how "a rich old hawk with considerable influence came into my place last week, scared a poor devil clean out'n his breath with his empire walk, and then sneaked a drink on 'em."

OSTEOPATHY.
By W. J. Rhynsbarger, D. O., Dayton, Ohio.

Ovarian Trouble. Case No. 1.—Mrs. T., aged 26, was a sufferer several years with inflammation of the ovaries. She received medical treatment for four years without being benefited, but each paroxysmal attack became more severe. Finally her family physician as well as three other medical doctors advised an operation for the removal of the ovaries in which they thought abscesses had formed. She then decided to try osteopathy.

I examined her September 11th and found congestion of the ovaries, associated with menorrhoea, also irregular menses, extreme tenderness over affected parts and a weak back, with muscular congestions in the middle dorsal and lower lumbar regions. I began to treat her at once and after two months' treatment, Mrs. T. is perfectly free from her former trouble. Osteopathic treatment did the work when drugs and failed, and an operation was avoided.

Rheumatism: The Marlon (Ohio) Daily Mirror gives an account of J. W. Simpson, who had been crippled for twenty years with rheumatism so that he could not walk. He received treatment of R. C. Dugan, D. O., and has been gaining for some time, and recently made the trip up town, where he received the congratulations of friends. This shows what osteopathy can do even after there has been structural derangement of the muscles, due to enforced non-use, as in this instance, from rheumatism.

When the Elixir is Found.
By E. Francis Moran.

The dawn of an age will soon appear
When sorrow in Lethe is drowned,
Life is not measured by month or year
When the Elixir is found.

There'll be no sickness dire to fear,
Prometheus will be unbound,
No grief, no sorrow and no tear,
When the Elixir is found.

Eternal summer on this sphere,
Perennial flowers abound,
Nothing in nature sad or drear
When the Elixir is found.

Men will be happy, one and all,
For care there'll be no ground,
Joy will come freely, without call,
When the Elixir is found.

'Tis then the life of man will be
In measure full and round,
The air is filled with melody,
When the Elixir is found.

In time the power of science will
With laurel green be crowned,
And ancient prophecy fulfill
When the Elixir is found.

The sage's misty ghost may float
O'er obliterated mound,
Pointing the way to time remote—
When the Elixir is found.

Exposure will not bring disease,
Sharp care will leave no wound,
And things that now annoy will please—
When the Elixir is found.

PROPOSES NEW TREASURY PLAN

WILL NOT DIVULGE SCHEME

His Report Will Contain Such Recommendations as He Deems Necessary for the Public Welfare, but He Refuses to Disclose Their Nature.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw admitted that the abolition of the subtreasuries had been under consideration for some time. He said, however, that what recommendations he had to make would be included in his report to congress.

"The secretary of the treasury is the only cabinet officer who reports directly to congress," said Mr. Shaw. "I am empowered to make whatever recommendations I may deem advisable, and my forthcoming report may contain certain recommendations which I deem necessary for the public welfare. Should I say what those recommendations would be congress might decline to adopt them."

Seeks to Avoid Contraction.
"The abolition of the subtreasuries," continued the secretary, "would release $53,000,000 at the present time. The remainder of the $218,774,500 in the treasuries at the last report is in circulation now. We have sought to deposit the money as rapidly as possible and avoid a contraction of the market."

"What is to be done before congress convenes?"

"I do not know that anything will be done."

Refuses to Forecast Action.
"By the anticipation of the October interest you have acknowledged the necessity for some action, and the high rate of interest prevailing in New York is further reason for action, is it not?"

"Well, we have put considerable money in circulation through the banks and I do not anticipate any danger. The payment of the October interest of course brought some relief. There is no occasion for anxiety. What congress will do when it meets to relieve a contingency that is constantly recurring is something I cannot forecast."

PLAN FOR NEW ILLINOIS ROAD

Projected Line Will Extend From Peoria to Murphysboro.

Carlyle, Ill., Sept. 22.—The citizens of Carlyle are manifesting much interest in a meeting to be held here Wednesday next for the purpose of considering a proposition to build a north and south railroad. The promoters, accompanied by C. W. Bliss and Edward A. Cross, representative citizens of Hillsboro, will attend the meeting.

The northern terminal of the proposed line will be Peoria, Ill. The road will pass through Springfield, Pawnee, Sunbina, Harvel, Hillsboro, Greenville, Carlyle, Nashville and Pinckneyville, the southern terminus being Murphysboro. This road, if built, will traverse rich coal fields and a fertile farming country.

MUST PAY FOR THE BOER WAR

British Government Demands $500,000, 000 From South African Colonies.

London, Sept. 22.—The government has decided that the new South African colonies are to be required to pay $500,000,000 toward the cost of the South African war.

The colonies are, however, to be allowed ample time in which to make this payment. It will not be collected until the extension of trade and expansion of revenue permit. Consequently the loan will not be floated for two or three years.

Mining profits will probably be taxed 10 per cent more than they were before the war and money will also be obtained by granting all kinds of concessions and mineral rights.

WILL GIVE CURE FOR EPILEPSY

Illinois Professor to Reveal Secret of His Discovery to Doctors.

Cabondale, Ill., Sept. 22.—Professor George H. French of the southern normal university in this city, known as the discoverer of the parasite that in many cases leads to epilepsy, has consented to deliver an address on his discovery before the Southern Illinois Medical association, which will meet at Centralia. He will describe a case of epilepsy of thirty-five years' standing in which a cure was effected through his discovery, giving also the treatment.

Choose Dr. Patton.

New York, Sept. 22.—Dr. Francis L. Patton, ex-president of Princeton university, will be elected president of the Princeton Theological seminary on October 11. At a special meeting of the board of directors Dr. Patton was unanimously chosen to fill this position. Members of the board called upon and put before him such forcible arguments for his accepting the position that, after hesitation, he assented.

Charged With Robbing Cars.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 22.—Charles Howe, an ex-convict of the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, was arrested charged with having stolen a large quantity of dress goods and shoes from the Big Four freight cars.

French Bishops Warn Pope.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The majority of the French bishops have notified the papal nuncio that they would not approve any Vatican declaration against the enforcement of the association laws.

SCHOOLS ARE IN NEED OF COAL

Lack of Fuel May Give Brooklyn Children a Vacation.

New York, Sept. 22.—With only coal enough left to finish out the month, the Brooklyn schools are threatened with an enforced recess. Only 1,000 tons of coal remain on hand for supplying 145 buildings. By the most rigid economy this amount can be made to last one week. At this has been found impossible to get a supply of coal in this country for the winter months for the sixteen public schools of Yonkers the board of education has decided to import coal from Wales rather than close the schools. Bids were asked for about 2,000 tons of anthracite, the dealers being allowed all the latitude possible in price. Not a bid was received.

FIRE THREATENS A BIG LINER

Attorney General Knox Aids in Keeping Women in Ignorance.

New York, Sept. 22.—The American liner St. Paul had a fierce fight with flames in midocean, but the peril was kept from all the women. Attorney General Knox, who was on board, was one of the men who was entrusted with the secret by Capt. John C. Jamison, and he aided the officers in keeping the passengers below decks. Excellent discipline prevailed and there was not a sign of panic. The fire started in the clothes room and blazed for twelve hours. The origin is unknown.

BANDS TO HUNT HORSE THIEVES

Illinois Farmers form Poses and Plan to Buy Bloodhounds.

Rock Falls, Ill., Sept. 22.—The farmers of Henry county are aroused over the prevalence of horse stealing and with other farmers in adjoining counties they have organized a protective association for the purpose of offering rewards for the capture and conviction of the thieves. During the last three weeks fifteen horses have been stolen in Henry county, two in Whiteside, three in Bureau and one in Lee county. Bloodhounds will be purchased to pursue the thieves.

IRATE MOTHER SHOTS A MAN

Fires Five Bullets at Fellow Accused of Ruining Girl.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Maud Smith, accompanied by her daughter, aged 17 years, fatally shot Harry Clark in the state fair grounds. The woman fired five shots, two of which took effect. Handling her revolver to a bystander, Mrs. Smith then boarded a street car and started for the city, where she was arrested. She gave as a reason for shooting Clark that he had ruined her daughter.

Kills Child and Self.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22.—Harry O. Williams, a life insurance agent, abducted his 2-year-old son from his wife at Auburn, Ill., and then, when pursued by officers, got out of his buggy, placed the child in the road and blew out its brains and then blew out his own.

Engineer Is Dead.

Brooklyn, Sept. 22.—Abraham B. Jones, at one time chief engineer of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, is dead at his home from kidney trouble. He was in the employ of the Pacific Mail Steamship company for thirty-three years.

LEOPOLD SPURNS HIS DAUGHTER

SEES BODY AFTER SHE LEVES

Disagreement Is Due to the Fact That She Married Count Leopold Against Her Parents' Wishes, Incurring Lasting Hatred of Her Father.

Spa, Belgium, Sept. 22.—King Leopold, who was in France when his wife died, arrived here and found his daughter, the Princess Stephanie, at the royal palace, where she had arrived to attend the funeral of her mother, Marie Henrietta, queen of the Belgians, who died on Friday. The king not only refused to speak to his daughter, but ordered her to leave the palace.

The princess consequently left Spa suddenly. She rode to the station in a hired carriage and amid demonstrations of sympathy from the people took a train for Brussels.

Refuses to Meet Daughter.

There are various versions of the quarrel at Spa between King Leopold and Princess Stephanie, the most reliable of which was to the effect that the princess was in the death chamber when his majesty arrived at the palace. He refused to enter until she had left the room. Princess Clementine, the king's third daughter, came and took Princess Stephanie away. King Leopold then entered the death chamber and prayed before the coffin for twenty-five minutes. The news of the quarrel between the king and the princess spread rapidly.

Opposes Her Marriage.

Princess Stephanie is the second daughter of the late Queen Marie Henrietta and King Leopold. She married the only son of the emperor of Austria in 1881 and was left a widow in 1889. She was married the second time in 1900 to Elmer, count of Lezay. This latter marriage was against the wishes of King Leopold, who refused to permit it to be legalized. He has been bitter against his daughter, and courts friendly to that of Belgium have declined to recognize the princess.

The body of the queen was placed in a coffin, and the king arrived too late to see it. The services today were imposing. Afterwards the body was immediately taken to Laeken, accompanied by the king, Princess Clementine and Prince Albert, the heir presumptive. The official funeral services will probably be held at Brussels on September 27.

STRAY BULLETS ENTER A HOME

Soldiers at Eldorado Claim Men First Fired on Them.

Eldorado, Ill., Sept. 22.—Considerable excitement prevails here in regard to a continuous fusillade which began at 10 o'clock Saturday night and lasted until Sunday morning.

The soldiers say that about twenty men in the cornfield near John Bean's house fired on the militia, but no tracks could be found there. The citizens claim that the soldiers did about all the shooting. Bullets could be heard from their rifles all over town.

One bullet entered William Giles' house, passing through the wall over a bed where two of his daughters were sleeping, barely missing them. The soldiers say that there were five wagonloads of men that made the attack.

SUPPOSED DEAD MAN REVIVES

Displays Evidence of Life When Barber Is About to Use Razor.

Wellsville, O., Sept. 22.—Samuel Colledge was taken seriously ill several days ago and was pronounced dead. John Blsman, a West End barber, was sent for to shave Colledge. He lathered the dead man's face and was about to run the razor over it when Colledge revived. Arrangements for the funeral were abandoned. Colledge is on the way to recovery.

RAIN SAVES THE LATE CROPS

Freshens Eastern Slope of Rockies and Quenches Forest Fires.

Denver, Col., Sept. 22.—Continuous rainfall over the entire eastern slope of the Rocky mountains from Montana to New Mexico has saved late crops and allayed fears of a shortage of water. The ranges have been freshened so that grazing will be good during the early winter. Forest fires that have raged for a month have been quenched.

Asked to Be Annexed.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Sept. 22.—More than 1,000 of the leading residents of these islands, including merchants, planters and householders, have petitioned the Danish ministry to expedite the transfer of the islands to the United States.

Train Kills Woman.

Vandalla, Ill., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Capella Austin was struck by an east-bound fast freight train on the Vandalla line and instantly killed. She, with her little daughter, Ellen, attempted to cross the track.

Scaffold Gives Way.

Union City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Ex-Mayor William Farish and his assistant, Henry Cass, were working on a high scaffold when it gave way, hurling both men to the ground. Both were badly hurt.

On Way to South Africa.

Ovid, Mich., Sept. 22.—Friends of State Senator Hiram M. High, the missing lawyer, incline to the opinion that he is on his way to South Africa instead of Mexico, as generally believed.

Heads Beirut American College.

New York, Sept. 22.—Rev. Howard S. Bliss, who for five years has been the pastor of the Christian Union Congregational church in Upper Montclair and was at one time assistant to Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott in Brooklyn, will sail October 2 for Beirut, Syria, to become president of the American college, to succeed his father, Rev. Daniel Bliss.

Noted Physician Dead.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 22.—Dr. Walker Curry of New York city died suddenly at his summer cottage, Branford, of acute pleurisy. He was 66 years of age. He was the attending physician of the late Millionaire William Marsh Rice for six years before that man's death.

Fears Smallpox.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 22.—The board of health has requested railroad officials not to run excursions between Cleveland and Pittsburg and this city on account of the smallpox in Cleveland and Pittsburg. Youngstown citizens were requested not to visit the two cities.

Salisbury Has the Gout.

Lucerne, Switzerland, Sept. 22.—Lord Salisbury's physician says the patient has a slight gouty affection from which he is suffering, but which gives no ground for anxiety.

Seven May Be Dead.

Geneva, Sept. 22.—Two French tourists, two guides and three porters who were making an ascent of Mont Blanc have fallen over a precipice and it is feared that they were all killed.

Fire Destroys a Foundry.

Havana, Ill., Sept. 22.—Fire destroyed the foundry and new machine shop of the Havana Metal Wheel company. The loss is $15,000, with $2,000 insurance.

Rain Quenches Forest Fires.

Encampment, Wyoming, Sept. 22.—Heavy rain has extinguished the forest fires in southern Wyoming and northern Colorado.

Shot by Her Lover.

Fairport, Mo., Sept. 22.—Maude Chisam was fatally shot by her lover, Marlon Lucas, and Lucas says he was driven to the deed by the girl's admitting inaptitudes that he should marry her. Miss Chisam was only 18 years old.

Boy Touches Live Wire.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 22.—The 12-year-old son of A. B. Corey climbed a telephone pole to look over the fence at a carnival show and, coming in contact with a live electric wire, fell thirty-five feet.

For Old Women's Home.

Marion, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Benjamin Waddle, who gave the county a $60,000 children's home, has donated the city land valued at $50,000 for an old women's home.

Columbia declined to accept the Panama canal protocol suggestions by Secretary Hay, and the entire subject of United States jurisdiction over the strip must be re-negotiated.

WASP WAISTS

Are not much in evidence among American women. The women of America are workers, and a weak waist handicaps a worker. But woman has a greater handicap than a weak waist. She may have a perfect form, beautiful and strong in all its lines, and yet be weak because her strength is undermined by diseases peculiar to her sex.

There is no room for argument as to the weakening effect of these diseases. There is also no room for argument as to the power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to cure them. It regulates the periods, stops unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and cannot disagree with the weakest constitution. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all narcotics.

Sick women suffering from chronic forms of female diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and so obtain the invaluable advice of a specialist in the diseases of women. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Words cannot tell how grateful I am for your kind advice and good medicines," writes Mrs. John Cook, Hastings, Northumberland Co., Ontario. "I had been in poor health for four years back, and this spring got so bad I could not do my work. I went to the doctor and he said I had ulceration and falling of the internal organs, but I thought I would try your 'Favorite Prescription.' I took five bottles and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and I can safely say that I never felt better in my life. I have spoken well of your medicines wherever I have been."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the liver healthy. They assist the action of "Favorite Prescription" when a laxative is required.

MEN'S MEETING IS INTERESTING ONE

Few Men Seem to Appreciate Help-ful Value of Afternoon Ser-vice at Y.M.C.A. Building.

That the value of the Sunday afternoon meetings for men in the Y. M. C. A. building is underestimated was already shown by the small number who thought it worth while to be in attendance yesterday. Less than thirty-five listened to a very helpful and thoroughly interesting address by the president of the association, Mr. F. F. Lewis.

Expectations
Mr. Lewis took as the subject of his address, "Expectations," choosing his remarks so as to make them applicable to the men before him, and practical in their application. After he had finished speaking several others made short remarks upon the subject. A duet was sung very pleasantly by the Messrs. Kline and Kaboe.
